Chinese-language media analysis in Singapore

Project Title	Chinese-language media analysis in Singapore
Project Summary	Review Chinese-language Singaporean media (primarily Lianhe Zaobao) and provide weekly summary of key topics and tone of coverage. This will help with our overall tracking of the public sentiment in the region on brand America.
Country	Singapore
Country/Region of Focus	China

Project Description

Seeking support to enhance the Public Affairs department's ability to monitor current events, economic, political, and social trends, provide critical analysis and research on specific topics related to PAS goal and development.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Analytical writing
Data analysis
Political Analysis
Research
Writing

Additional Information

Fluent in reading and writing Mandarin Chinese and fluent in reading, writing, and speaking English are required. This project will help the virtual student foreign service interns develop writing and communications skills, analysis, and research skills, as well as gain an understanding of the media sentiment in the region.

Language Requirements

Language	Speaking Proficiency	Reading Proficiency	Importance
Chinese-Mandarin	Full professional proficiency	Full professional proficiency	Required